(By Associated Press.)

Proveza, Albania.—Members of the international mission investigating the assassination of General Tellini and his suite are understood to be convinced that the Greeks are innocent of the crime imputed to them by Italy.

The report of their investigations will be forwarded to the inter-allied council of ambassadors today. The mission also is understood to have decided that the Greeks, while innocent of the assassination, are guilty of negligence in seeking out those whose committed the murders. Japanese, French and British delegates, it is said, concluded that the assassins acted from vengeance rather than from political motives. It is stated, however, that the Italian members of the inquiry commission are filing a minority report substantiating their original charges.

Publishers Sign Contract With International Union to Man Presses.

(By Associated Press.)

New York.—So far as the New York publishers and officers of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' union are concerned, the strike of pressmen on the New York dailies, begun last Monday, is ended. The publishers last night signed an agreement for members of the international union to man the presses, deserted by members of the local pressmen's union, which dissolved through revocation of its charter.

Under Return Terms. However, members of the outlawed union may have the opportunity of returning to work with international union cards, and they will meet Sunday to decide their course of action, in this respect. When the terms were first made known to them last night the 3,000 members of the old union hoisted and shouted that they would not go back.

A morning newspaper reporter, battered and torn, dragged himself to a drug store on the edge of the Bronx early today and told of having been kidnapped by striking pressmen during a meeting of their organization last night.

He was covering the meeting for his paper, he said, when a group of pressmen surrounded him, dragged him from the hall, tossed him into a taxicab and rode with him to a desolate outskirts of the Bronx. There he was taken and beaten unconscious, he said. When he revived he was lying in a field some distance from where he last remembered being in the city.

It also was revealed today that the art director of a morning newspaper had been beaten yesterday by a crowd of pressmen in the entrance of the municipal building on Park Row. His assailants fled after inflicting numerous lacerations and bruises.

Postoffice Inspector J. A. Niles, Neenah, has been summoned to investigate.

FARMERS LAUNCH BOYCOTT THREAT AT OXFORDVILLE

RANCOR OVER SCHOOL ISSUE SUE BREAKS FORTH AT MEETING.

(By Associated Press.)

Oxfordville.—Withdrawal of all patrons of Oxfordville merchants is threatened by the farmers of Spring Valley and Plymouth townships if the village does not vote for the abolition of the Oxfordville high school of the night. The farmers met Tuesday at the election next Tuesday.

Acquiescing to the request of farmers, the merchants met a committee representing the farmers of the districts in these two townships which help support the Oxfordville High school, at the village hall Friday night.

Would Abolish School. They heard the pleas of the three members of the committee for the abolition of the school, and the farmers for their rural neighbors by delivering the vote of the village of Oxfordville at the polls next Tuesday.

The farmers said the school has operated four years. What will happen if they do not, the committee told the merchants they would find out better afterward.

The arguments were hot and prolonged, the lie was passed many times and the meeting was adjourned at 11 o'clock. The next night, after an hour and a half discussion had failed to shake the attitude of the farmers.

The committee took steps towards organization of a commercial club, voting to ask Oscar Nelson, Janesville, in charge of Chamber of Commerce work in Oxfordville, to meet with them in the near future.

Misrepresentation Charged. The pleas of the merchants that they were not in a position to deliver the vote, even if they wished to do so, were rejected. The farmers' sentiment is strong in the village, however, and the committee is expected to occur Tuesday. It is looked on in political circles as presaging a battle between the farmers and the town of Oxfordville.

Governor Walton Renews Threats Against Solons

(By Associated Press.)

Oklahoma City.—A threat to close the Oklahoma state fair and place Oklahoma county under a more rigid enforcement of martial law unless members of the state legislature abandon their plan to meet in extraordinary session Wednesday, was voiced today by Gov. J. C. Walton. The net spread by Walton for alleged participants in mob violence has enmeshed Grand Dragon N. C. Jewett, the highest officer of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma.

On evidence secured by a military court, investigating floggings in Oklahoma, Jewett was arrested here last night by civil authorities in connection with the beating of B. R. Merriman, Oklahoma City, on the night of March 7, 1922. He pleaded not guilty to the formal charge of riot and was released on $1,000 bond. Merriman was the complainant.

Grand Dragon Jewett admitted to Dr. A. Maupin, a local dentist, the latter testified before the military court. Responsibility for the beating of Merriman for his alleged relations with a married woman, Secora Leggett.

The governor's statement Saturday that members of the legislature, "from their own sense of duty and loyalty," evidently intend to ride through blood up to the bridge, and that any who oppose will be "wading through a slaughter house into an open grave."

But by virtue of the power vested in me as governor of this state, no mob shall ride Oklahoma as long as I am above ground and in that high office," he asserted.

Cal Solons Lawless. "This lawless element contemplates starting a demonstration under the guise of a legislative assembly," continued the governor. "I have ordered the removal of from their path any officer who dares oppose their lawless acts and who dares bring them to the bar of justice."

The only thing that surprises me is that they have not convened their legislature at night in the whipping pasture where, in full regalia of masks and robes, they have danced and purged, cecrops, goblins and wizards; they could impose me in the sanctity of nature's temple that has so often rounded with the cries of agony of tortured victims."

BOUGHT FROM WOMAN WHO POSED AS MILWAUKEE FIRM AGENT.

PLOT HELD SURE

Stricken Family Only One Visited; Victim Expected to Recover.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Whitewater.—City and county authorities Saturday were working on a poison case which was disclosed about 8 p. m. Friday when Ralph Schaub, 16 year old high school boy, was stricken after returning from a ride in the country with his brother and sister. He had eaten some candy which his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Schaub, Whitewater, had bought earlier in the day from a woman who posed as the representative of a Milwaukee candy concern.

Examination by Dr. C. E. Dike, called to treat the Schaub boy, showed that there was enough strychnine in each piece of candy to bring death to a person eating it.

Search for the woman is being made by authorities while the Schaub boy fights a winning battle against the effects of the poisoning. He was in a serious condition Friday night when the physician was summoned to his home. He had become disoriented and his legs and arms stiffened. He suffered no convulsions and he was improved Saturday.

Mrs. Schaub was busy from about 2 p. m. Friday at her home on Main street, which she conducts as a boarding house for normal school girls, when the candy was bought. Her opening statement as recalled by Mrs. Schaub, was as follows:

"I am representing a Milwaukee candy company. We have some thing new we are putting on the market. I have it in bags. It is 10 cents."

"I had promised my children some candy but didn't have time to go to the store and get it so I thought it was a good chance. I bought one bag," Mrs. Schaub related.

The woman sold her bag of candy, and drove off, and Mrs. Schaub resumed her work. The candy came home, and as they were driving into the country for a visit at a farm, Mrs. Schaub accompanied them part way to the E. St. George farm. On the way she gave them the candy. Ralph first bit into it. He said: "This is bitter."

The three other children—Delbert, 13, Myrtle, 12, and Lawrence, 6—all refused. Ralph's statement, Mrs. Schaub suspected something was wrong with the candy. She wiped the children's mouths out and threw the candy away. The children continued to their destination. The matter worried Mrs. Schaub and she confided in Mrs. John Youngblood, a neighbor, who she related to the story.

CHEVROLET GETS SPRINKLER SYSTEM

$100,000 Fire Protection Project Started—Driveaway Shed Is Completed.

Construction of the $100,000 sprinkler system is being pushed at the Chevrolet plant, and the beautiful lawn is being torn up and pipes laid. The contract for the work was awarded to Sward Bros., Rockford, Ill., and totals $60,000. The steel water tower, with a capacity of 60,000 gallons and rising in the air 130 feet, will be constructed by the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company.

Completion of the work by Jan. 1, 1934, is guaranteed. Thousands of feet of pipe will be laid in the building and around the grounds of the Chevrolet and Fisher Body company and will result in practical assurance that the plants will never be destroyed by fire. A much lower insurance rate can then be secured.

Large water tank Erection of the steel water tower to the east of the transformer house will be started next week by the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company. The tank will be 30 feet in height and will rest on a steel tower 100 feet high, giving it a total height of 130 feet.

The driveaway shed across the street from the Fisher and Chevrolet plants, in the process of construction for several months, has been turned over by the engineering department, of which C. E. Wallace is head.

Driveaway Enclosure in Use Use of the shed does away with filling the street with cars waiting to be driven away and results in a more systematic plan being put into effect. The cars are driven out of the gate at the far end of the plant and across to the driveaway enclosure. There they are held until driven away to the dealer.

Conforming to the general plan to have in Spring Brook one of the finest plants in Wisconsin, the driveaway shed is a fine appearing structure. The shed is of steel construction, 250 by 30 feet, with a red tile, sloping roof which will give cover to 72 cars at one time. All of the yard, 418 by 144 feet, is enclosed with a wire fence, painted black, and the whole area is paved.

An average of 100 cars are parked in the enclosure and driveaways are now practically confined to the morning. An average of 50 or 60 cars have been driven away daily, and warm weather permitting, this will be increased, Manager L. I. Stewart said Friday.

Waiting Room Near Completion Two weeks at the most will see the building erected in one corner of the enclosure, in use for the men waiting for driveaways. A little interior work remains to be done. The building is 74 by 30 feet and of brick and stucco construction, with a red tile roof to match that of the driveaway shed. A room 24 by 28 feet has been built at one end with a replace and toilet for the comfort of the men driving the cars away. Tables and benches will be installed. At one end is an office for the driveaway superintendent.

The remainder of the building will be used as a garage for officials' cars. Parking of employees' cars has been a problem and has been simplified by lanes marked out. Four driveaway entrances have been built. Utilization of all ground to the railroad tracks will be made possible, as the low land is now being filled in.

Manual Training, Cooking, Typing, All Popular Here

Commercial classes are in great vogue at the high school, and this year classes have been limited to 30 in each typing class, making it necessary for quite a number of pupils to change their courses and not take this subject.

Conditions here, however, are not so bad as in Milwaukee high schools, where it is reported that domestic science and manual training are being utterly neglected for typewriting. Those vocational subjects are well liked here and classes in them are fairly well filled. This may be due to the new equipment and rooms and the attractive classes offered.

Milwaukee is having a difficult time with her problem, however, and pedagogues are making for suggestions from the public on what to do. Thousands of dollars worth of equipment lies idle there because of the unpopularity of domestic science and manual training.

The situation is thought to exist because more typing positions are open to students than there are and it is an inducement to learn to be a stenographer.

MOTHER OF BELLE MURRY, ACTRESS WAS LOCAL WOMAN

OPINION UPSETS PLAN FOR SHIPS

As to the features of the plan as passed by the shipping board, it is believed that more legislation is needed but the actual plan did not contemplate anything but ultimate sale. The government would hold all the stock in the corporations and would sell that stock whenever the bids were sufficient from private interests. Mr. Dunsen contends that receiving stock into the treasury which represents government property is not a sale and the shipping board would not hold all the stock in the corporations and would sell that stock whenever the bids were sufficient from private interests. Mr. Dunsen contends that receiving stock into the treasury which represents government property is not a sale and the shipping board would not hold all the stock in the corporations and would sell that stock whenever the bids were sufficient from private interests.

The upshot of the matter for the present will be delay. The shipping board could not be expected to subordinate its authority or powers to any agency which is being constituted as managing the shipping business. The shipping board will be vigorously fought by the operators and steamship owners who have been trying to force the government either to continue the present method of operating under a commission basis through managing agencies or through private ownership at low enough prices to enable the future owners to cash in ultimately.

Jury Frees Man of Two Charges

Charged with reckless driving and having insufficient lights on his car at night, Henry Kroklow was found by a jury in municipal court following a three-hour trial Friday afternoon. The complaining witness charged Kroklow with reckless driving and of his cows on the Lima-Whitewater road, but the jurors felt the state's own testimony that Kroklow stopped within three feet of the witness and was sufficient to prove him innocent of reckless driving. District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie prosecuted the case and J. C. McWitt, Jansville, defended Kroklow. The state's witnesses were: Otto, Frank, Edward and William Remey. For the defense: Harvey Yandry, Harry and Kroklow and Roy Cummings, testified.

Youngster sought to assure her that nothing could possibly be wrong. Mrs. Schaub's suspicions were found to be well founded when the children returned and Ralph was ill. The mother, then, summoned Dr. Dike and told him the story.

Accompanied by A. J. Tubbs, night manager, he went out to where the candy had been thrown out of the car, picked it up and brought it to his office. The examination showed it contained a "high amount" of strychnine. The three other children are not ill, for they did not swallow the candy.

District Attorney Alfred Godfrey, Elkhorn, came to Whitewater, Saturday, and took charge of the investigation.

That it is part of a plot to poison the Schaub family is supported by the failure of investigators to find another place in Whitewater where the woman had attempted to sell any of the candy.

Motive Is Unknown. Mrs. Schaub has not been able to offer a possible motive. She told the district attorney that she thought at first she had seen the woman before, but was not sure.

The Whitewater woman declared that she "saw" about 15 years old. Whether or not she was accompanied by anyone she could not say. The woman called about 2 p. m.

FARMERS LAUNCH BOYCOTT THREAT AT ORFORDVILLE

can't afford to pay any more taxes," said Mr. Tews. It seems to us you fellows see only one side of the question and not the position of the farmer.

He predicted that, should the high school be continued, another high school building would have to be built, which would cost not less than $100,000, and that those farmers who are now deep in debt would be bankrupted.

"You all know your business better than we do and you know and we know that you have paper and notes that aren't worth much," he said. "I know the banks have notes in their vaults that are worth almost nothing. It means we must co-operate in this matter. As long as we are going to be the prosperous village it might have been."

"Would Withdraw Trade." "It has been threatened that the farmers will withdraw their trade from Orfordville. They are worked up to a fever heat and they carry it through. It will mean a loss bigger than you can estimate. You had better finance this school yourselves than take the loss. It is better for everybody concerned that we let it out. The effort has been made by the rural districts to withdraw from the district supporting the high school. At the election Tuesday, the voters will be asked to vote on the matter. Unless the vote for abolition is carried in this matter, the school will continue. The farmers must continue to support it unless other steps are taken to withdraw. The budget adopted in June, at the annual meeting, which was $100,000, is a little more than a two mill tax is levied for the support of the school."

One of Finance. Charles Taylor, spokesman for the businessmen, asked the committee what percentage of the farmers proposed to withdraw their patronage. He said he would find out better after the election," Mr. Sprad replied.

"We are not against the school, but we're not to a point where we want to see the school run by a bunch of farmers. We are not opposed to the high school, but we are opposed to the method of financing it. We spend all this money for school and still have domestic violence and these girls will never make a loaf of bread like their mothers."

Mr. Taylor, however, told us that we would get out of the district after four years and how you will have to let the country people out. So long as you don't, you will always have a fight on your hands."

Transport Cut Allowed. The two-thirds cut in the cost of transportation, through amendment to the state law, now in effect, was brought out by the businessmen, answering the farmers' statements concerning the excessive high cost.

Mr. Ennis, answering a question of Mr. Taylor, declared that the school would be closed, but that the farmers where they are today.

"Between the whole business we are paupers," said Mr. Ennis. "The boys are now little boys and they are educating them. Give them an education up to the fourth grade and then let them shift for themselves! Still we are educating them and making slaves out of them."

A few scholarly men are running these things and we are mortgaging our homes and never had a thing to do with it. Mr. Ennis declared, referring to the school. He called attention to how hard the farmers work and asked:

"Did you ever hear of a farmer taking a vacation?"

"Or spending several weeks at a lake fishing," Mr. Tews added.

"If that is the case," Mr. Taylor, addressing himself to Mr. Ennis, Orfordville was advised by one member of the committee that they have a "pretty bunch of grafters." Asked if he meant all of them, he replied:

"You don't have to have many if you spend them around."

Turn About Suggested. Dr. W. G. Ehling, president of Mr. Tews' concerning tuberculosis tested cattle and secured from him an admission that he thought it was a good thing and would eventually work out all right, and that the city people help pay the taxes for it.

"Does it look just fair to ask us to vote against educating your and our children?" questioned Dr. Ehling. "I would say yes, if we came to your district and said that if you don't come to Orfordville to trade, we in the village would vote out the tuberculosis test, which takes out all right. You'd think we were a bunch of fools, yet you fellows come up here and ask us to deliver the vote to abolish the school. We can't even do it without a fight."

Hot Word Battle. Richard Agar, secretary of the meeting, and Mr. Snorud engaged in a hot word battle in which Snorud charged that Agar had misrepresented facts when he appeared in his district four years ago.

"If you misunderstood me I am not responsible for it," Agar said. Agar, and walked down from the platform and stood in front of Snorud, who arose, as did Tews.

Sit down, Dick, wasn't I there with you? I know what was said. I didn't think it worth while to answer them," Mr. Taylor said.

"Why didn't you think it worth while?" Mr. Ennis angrily demanded. "You old savage fool. You ain't thought any more of than I am in this community, and that ain't but damn little. Isn't their word as good as ours?"

"I move we adjourn," said Mr. Taylor, and the meeting was concluded.

New State Law Causes Delay in Sending Pensions

Under legislative changes and a ruling of the attorney general all pension money for the blind and deaf is being held up by Rock county. The matter of granting pensions of the blind will have to come before the annual meeting of the Rock county board in November.

Control of the pension money has passed from the state board to the county board with an agency being established to investigate the blind cases. People now receiving pensions will be obliged to make a new application for pension, according to County Clerk Howard W. Lee. Blanks will be distributed to those on the Rock county pension list as soon as they are received from the state.

Were it not for the changes and the opinion received Saturday from the attorney general, the county would have sent out the last quarterly check to those on the pension list on Oct. 15.

Since the county clerk cannot pay pensions to blind until new applications are made and these applications passed upon by the board, reported the county clerk.

No Protest Filed.—The committee of public works approved assessments.

Stock Prices in General Reaction to Celler Levels

New York—Stock prices reacted to within two points of the year's lows this week in response to heavy selling for both accounts. Bond prices also gave way, but showed a tendency to strengthen later when money rates turned noticeably easier.

The reaction in the stock market was precipitated by the heavy liquidation of the oil shares. Speculative sentiment was confused during the week by the publication of conflicting opinions by leading producers. E. M. Doherty, chairman of the Pan-American companies, expressed the belief that the crest of California production had not yet been reached.

Steel shares were depressed on reports of lessened production and cuts in prices by some of the independents. Tubulars yielded to lower prices. American Woolen broke badly on rumors of unsatisfactory trade conditions. Equipments, leathers and many other leading industrial shares also lost ground. Sugars were strong.

FINANCE

New York—Stock prices made recovery from recent heaviness in today's brief and quiet session. Food, rubber, steel, equipment and oil shares were lifted to higher ground, several of the leaders gaining a point or more. Subsidies of recent selling pressure and the failure of bear operators to uncover any acutely spotted brought about a fair volume of short covering over the week-end. Bulls were bought on speculative expectations of favorable August earnings statements, the eastern carnival being most in demand. The closing was firm. Sales approximated 300,000.

Confused price movements took place at the opening of Saturday's stock market, but United States Steel, Baldwin, Standard, American Can and other industrial leaders were fractionally higher on initial sales. Trading gained a point. Closing was unchanged at 24 on a sale of 1,000 shares, indicating that the market had discounted the directors' omission of the dividend.

The Wagon Wheel

WHAT WAS GOING ON? It ain't that. It's the ring. I left it there for anybody to pick up. The first man laughed. "What's the difference? I can easy get another clench ring. Suppose now somebody does find the ring and the other about that. You can't put anybody in jail for leaving his clench ring in the neighborhood of fire ashes, and if it was a crime, how you going to connect that particular ring with me? It couldn't be done. You're nervous—lostin' your grip."

The second man shook a doubtful head. "You're right, the same. I should have picked up that ring. You can't tell—Oh, all right, all right, have it your own way. Here we are. When you're aiming to catch the remains?"

But dark misgivings continued to torment the second man. The crowd of uncaringly over the missing clench ring. Two days later he returned to the shallow basin where the fire had burned and scuffed about through the ashes and grass. He crawled hither and yon on all fours. But he did not find the clench ring. Instead he stumbled upon that which had the every day of the clench ring following the murder, both he and his comrade had overlooked—Thompson's sixshooter. This weapon he took away with him and toward the day's end flung into a creek's tortuous scour hole. It was never found.

Visited New York During Strike of Union Pressmen

Returning home Thursday night after a three week vacation spent in New York state, the Rev. Henry Williamson brought with him copies of some of the most unique newspapers ever published—the combined issues of New York's 11 evening and 10 morning papers. With every newspaper plant in the city crippled by the strike of pressmen, the evening papers combined their efforts and issued one newspaper daily throughout the strike. The morning papers did likewise, so that for the duration of the strike the city had only two daily papers as compared to 21 in normal times.

Each issue was held down to but eight pages and theatrical advertising was the only kind carried. The papers were known as "The Combined New York Morning Newspapers" and "The Combined New York Evening Newspapers."

Publications co-operating in the evening enterprise were Brooklyn Citizen, Brooklyn Daily Eagle, Brooklyn Journal, Evening Mail, Evening Post, Sun and Globe, Evening Standard Union, and Evening World. The morning papers were the New York Herald, Journal of Commerce, Daily News, Morning Telegraph, Times, Tribune, World, and the New York American.

The Rev. Mr. Williamson went to Niagara Falls after leaving Jamesville and thence by boat to Toronto, the Thousand Islands, shooting the rapids of the St. Lawrence river on to Montreal. From there he reached New York via the Erie railroad. He spent 10 days with his mother and sisters.

He spent last week in New York city visiting with his friends. There he saw many startling things, including the pressmen's strike. In the trolleyman's strike in New Jersey the past few days, the trolley cars were running on horse-drawn lines, until finally forced to settlement by action of the governor and chancellor of New Jersey, ending an injunction and appointment of a receiver to run the roads.

"That's good. I appreciate it. And when Bill Derr and his friends are trailing in the forest in the morning, I'll give you credit for starting the game. Yeah, if it hadn't been for the bright idea in that bright brain of yours, we wouldn't be wondering what to do with the remains. I told you it was too close to home. But you wouldn't take advice. Not you. You know best. Oh, yes, of course. You wouldn't be happy till you got it, and now you got it, what are you going to do with it?"

"You act like you're scared of Bill Derr," sneered the first man contemptuously.

"I feel a heap cautious about Bill," was the return. "I always did. Always with Bill is one citizen you want to walk around like he was a swamp. Speaking catch-as-catch-can, I'd rather have forty warwhoops chasing me on a hill than one Bill Derr. And so would you."

"He don't scare me any," denied the other.

"Never mind. He will!"

"Now right, but you mark my word, you'll have plenty use for that slickery brain of yours before the last card is out of the box."

"I'm a-usin' it right now. Swing to the left, here."

"Not that way! You crazy? The farwell trail ain't two miles away."

"That's where we're going. I have a scheme."

"Another scheme?" cried the second man. "Ain't you satisfied yet?"

"This scheme will work. Listen here, you know that rocky hill about a quarter mile north of the forks of the reservation and farwell roads?"

"Who's going to plant the saddle and bridle at their ranch?" the second man asked.

"You needn't worry. I'll attend to that."

"You hot you will, so far as I'm concerned, I'm a-usin' it right now. Swing to the left, here."

"Not that way! You crazy? The farwell trail ain't two miles away."

"That's where we're going. I have a scheme."

"Another scheme?" cried the second man. "Ain't you satisfied yet?"

"This scheme will work. Listen here, you know that rocky hill about a quarter mile north of the forks of the reservation and farwell roads?"

ORGANIZATION BY FARMERS IS URGED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The salvation of the farmer does not lie in the direction of governmental activity, but rather through business organization with his fellows, United States Senator Irving L. Lenroot, advised his audience of fruit growers in a talk here tonight on "Farmers Co-operative Associations."

"The farmer is just beginning to learn the value of organization along economic lines," Senator Lenroot said. "There have been many farm organizations in the past and there are many now, but most of them soon after their organization are controlled by politicians who lead the members to believe that their life can be cured by political action, and instead of functioning as business organizations should function, they stay busy in the tail to somebodys political kite."

Notable Exceptions.
"I am glad to say that the American Farm Bureau and the National Farm Bureau are notable exceptions. While there are many evils affecting the farmer that are properly the subject of political concern, the organization does not lie in governmental action."

"The farmer must find some method of organization that will harmonize with the economic life of the business, and this co-operative farm organization does. When they are formed according to commodity produced, there is no reason why the producer should not have a very important voice in the price he shall receive for his product, while the farmer has no voice in the price he shall receive for his product, the price can be ordered marketing be secured, and the supply for the market be measured by the demand for the product."

"Congress has already done all it can do to facilitate the organization of farmers co-operative organizations. A few years ago the Federal Growers' associations of California were threatened by the government with indictment as being in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust law. The matter was brought to congress to relieve all farmers co-operative organizations from the restrictions and penalties of the Sherman law. The matter was between the two houses for over a year, though inability to agree on a measure."

"The bill had given up the matter as hopeless, when Senator Kellogg, Minnesota, and I, neither belonging to the Farm Bureau nor the matter, secured meetings of all parties interested, and finally obtained an agreement to put the measure through. Some of us with the measure were charged with extending a special privilege to the farmer. But we pointed out the difference in the character of the business. The bill passed, is upon the statute books today and so far as the federal government is concerned, farmers are free to form co-operative organizations and develop them to great usefulness without having hang over them the menace of prosecution under the Sherman law. This would emphasize the fact that there is no magic of legislation, no legislation that can cure the farmers' ills. About all any congress can do is to keep open the road of opportunity for farmers to work out their own problems."

Gomper's Is Quoted.
Senator Lenroot quoted President Samuel Gomper's of the American Federation of Labor, who also pointed out what he said was the failure of legislation to remedy farmers' ills.

BADGER HOLSTEINS WIN AT ILLINOIS

BUREAU WILL PLAN FOR NEW CAMPAIGN

Members of the Rock County Farm Bureau executive committee will meet in the court house here Monday to make final plans for the re-organization campaign to start Oct. 1.

The campaign will be put through on a township basis and a new organization built up to handle the agricultural business of the county in a more efficient manner. The bulk of the funds realized will be used to promote farming in Rock county, taking in every department from livestock, marketing, sales to crops and orchards.

Advisory Committee.
Breeds and other promotion organizations of the county have taken a cooperative move in requesting the bureau to build up a department able to handle the growing farm business. It is proposed to sharply divide the work of the county to prevent duplication and overlapping of the work by heading all agricultural affairs through this organization. An advisory committee has been partly created for the purpose of meeting with the Farm Bureau executive committee to adopt specific program of work, which will take in all departments, and then having sufficient help to carry the projects through.

The organization will not come out of the tax budget and if anything will cost the taxpayer far less than the present organization.

The suggested organization has been charted out as follows:
1—The Rock County Farm Bureau Executive Board.
2—The Rock County Advisory Committee, General Manager.
3—Crops and Soil Worker.
4—Livestock Worker.
5—Livestock Agent.

Under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act the salary of the extension agent is paid in part by the government and state, only $400 to be raised by the county. This agent can follow any line of agricultural work in addition to holding classes during evenings.

The bulk of the funds realized will be used to promote farming in Rock county, taking in every department from livestock, marketing, sales to crops and orchards.

Advisory Committee.
Breeds and other promotion organizations of the county have taken a cooperative move in requesting the bureau to build up a department able to handle the growing farm business. It is proposed to sharply divide the work of the county to prevent duplication and overlapping of the work by heading all agricultural affairs through this organization. An advisory committee has been partly created for the purpose of meeting with the Farm Bureau executive committee to adopt specific program of work, which will take in all departments, and then having sufficient help to carry the projects through.

The organization will not come out of the tax budget and if anything will cost the taxpayer far less than the present organization.

The suggested organization has been charted out as follows:
1—The Rock County Farm Bureau Executive Board.
2—The Rock County Advisory Committee, General Manager.
3—Crops and Soil Worker.
4—Livestock Worker.
5—Livestock Agent.

Under the provisions of the Smith-Hughes act the salary of the extension agent is paid in part by the government and state, only $400 to be raised by the county. This agent can follow any line of agricultural work in addition to holding classes during evenings.

HIGH PRINCE, COWS ARE DOING GREAT, SAYS GEN. MANAGER

Calvary—When the Prince of Wales reached the "E. P." ranch he found a former Badger stockman in the person of his general manager, W. L. Carls.

The "E. P." ranch is located 25 miles from a railroad and is devoted to the production of livestock. Its manager was for a period of years head of the department of animal husbandry at the University of Wisconsin, succeeding the late John A. Craig who acquired international reputation for his work in establishing livestock judging.

STOP ADULTERATING OF OIL MEAL FEEDS

Science has rendered Wisconsin another service.
A new method for protecting farmers in the state against adulterated oil-meal has been perfected by W. H. Strowd and B. W. Grien of the State Department of Agriculture.

The United States Department of Agriculture has accepted the new test as a basis for instituting suits against companies which fail to bring their oil-meal up to the standard required by statute.

According to Strowd the meal sold by two of the seven companies in the state was below standard but with the coming of the new adulteration test these two companies have ceased to adulterate their product.

The adulterant which is most commonly used is screenings. This method of adulteration has defrauded the farmers who have been purchasing these meals of from five to seven dollars a ton.

What Can the Farm Bureau Do For the Farmers?

NOT CONSIDERING for a moment what the Bureau has done, and is doing, along state, and national lines, give honest thought as to what can be done in Rock county by good organization and co-operation.

It is proposed to so reorganize the Farm Bureau that every agricultural activity of the county be centralized in the Bureau so as to benefit every farmer in a more direct manner.

Marketing and Sales:

Give the farmer good markets and much of the evils confronting agriculture will be eliminated. The Bureau as a county-wide farm organization can centralize marketing and sales of all farm products on a commodity basis. Markets can be developed in an organized manner for grains, seeds, orchard and field products and livestock. The Bureau can help advertise this produce, create new markets and help the farmer sell. Extension of the livestock shipping associations means more profits to the farmer.

Soils and Stock Development:

There must be united effort to improve the quality of the livestock, to enrich the soils and produce crops that are rewarded by "above the average prices." It means cash to the farmer if the Farm Bureau can employ a competent man to handle stock sales, both county and private, to encourage buyers coming here, and handling the details of the sales. Limestone crushers' save money. Pooled orders for fertilizers, better seeds and other farm necessities save money.

Reducing Farm Buying Costs:

Farmers must learn that in order to bring down the price of products they must buy—feed, seeds, coal, salt, etc.—they must pool their orders. Quantity buying can be worked out to save the farmers cash.

Getting Practical Results:

The Rock County Farm Bureau wants to put through a reorganized program to take up major activities that will save money for the farmer and increase the price on the agricultural merchandise produced within the county.

A membership of more than 2,000 will put over a program that will give aid to every farm department.

Blue Grid Team Material Good, Schedule Ready

After the first week and a half of practice, things are commencing to shape up with the football team of Janesville high school. A better line on the men has been made in the last few days by the first scrimmage.

Next week, the first definite game will probably be available as to the composition of the team.

On Friday, Coach "Gibby" Gibson gave out advance dope on the possibilities. Out of the 60 lads who have been named for the team, he said that about 30 will be in the first game.

MATTY HEILMANN of Detroit and Mike Ruth of New York are running a neck and neck race for first place in the batting averages of the American League. Heilmann, according to the Associated Press figures including games of last Wednesday, still holds the lead, but his margin is less than a percentage point. His mark now is .316, six points ahead of the king of baseball, Ruth, who has .310.

White Sox has been hitting the old ball a powerful smack and now is in fifth place with .300, supplanting Hamilton of the Indians.

ALTHOUGH old Zach Wheat of Brooklyn leads nine points during the past week, Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals still holds the first rung of the ladder in the "National League." Hornsby has a percentage of .324, while Wheat is .314. The Cardinals are in first place, followed by the Braves, who are in second place with .314. The Cubs are in third place with .314, followed by the Pirates, who are in fourth place with .314. The Reds are in fifth place with .314, followed by the Giants, who are in sixth place with .314. The Dodgers are in seventh place with .314, followed by the Phillies, who are in eighth place with .314. The Browns are in ninth place with .314, followed by the Athletics, who are in tenth place with .314.

THE HOME RUN contest again is knotted, Ruth and Williams both having a mark of 20. Ruth has 20 home runs, including 20 doubles and 10 triples and has crossed the 100 mark. Williams has 20 home runs, including 12 homers, nine triples and 29 doubles. Young of the Giants has 11 home runs. Collins of the Sox has 10 home runs. The Cubs are in first place with .314, followed by the Braves, who are in second place with .314. The Cubs are in third place with .314, followed by the Pirates, who are in fourth place with .314. The Reds are in fifth place with .314, followed by the Giants, who are in sixth place with .314. The Dodgers are in seventh place with .314, followed by the Phillies, who are in eighth place with .314. The Browns are in ninth place with .314, followed by the Athletics, who are in tenth place with .314.

DIAMOND SPARKLES—Giants took a double fall out of the Pirates, scores being 8-4 and 6-1, and need but four games to clinch the National League pennant. Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics are in a double header. Babe Pinelli, Cincinnati player, won the game against Brooklyn when he drove a triple in the ninth inning, scoring Hargrave, Benny Schwartz, Baltimore. Jack Dempsey says being champion has netted him $200,000. Ernie Goossman, Milwaukee, broke his record with a 10-0 victory over Schaefer and calls off with Sammy Mandell, Rockford. Curly Wilshur, Toronto, won Canadian featherweight title by beating Kid Toy, Montreal, titleholder.

Jack Dempsey visits LaSalle state, Chicago financial district, parts with $250,000 in exchange for bonds bearing 6 1/2 per cent interest.

Danbury, English Derby winner, has sailed on the Aquitania, to see the champion American three year old at Belmont, Oct. 20.

SOME OF THE RECENT IMPORTANT EVENTS OF THE WORLD TOLD IN PICTURES ON THIS PAGE

Huge Piles of Debris, On ce Homes, Offices;

Hundreds of persons and scores of autos dropping into harbor as earthquake destroys pier at Yokohama. This remarkable photo, taken from Yokohama and Tokio, was rushed across the Pacific on the liner, then relayed by airplane and fastest train, Japan harbor in an effort to escape death. Autos on the pier plunged grotesquely into the water. A tidal wave increased the death list.

"ONCE ENOUGH," SAYS TENNIS STAR WHO CROSSED OCEAN ALONE

"I want to stay in bed forever and sleep," says Alain J. Gerbault, French aviator, tennis star and sailor extraordinary, as he tries to "make up for lost time" after going without rest for days while crossing the Atlantic alone in a thirty-foot sailboat. Gerbault made the trip in 148 days. Storms kept him drenched for ten days. He caught cold and lay unconscious for two days.

Holmar Liederman, Alaska's most beautiful girl, has announced that she will sue the officials of the Atlantic City beauty pageant, charging she was humiliated when the officials refused to permit her to compete in the beauty contest after an Alaskan paper had sent her to Atlantic City as Miss Alaska to represent the northern territory.

Timely Tips for the Auto Owner.

To tune up and obtain the maximum amount of power from your engine, the "compression" in all cylinders must be good. Perhaps you do not know exactly what this term means, yet the amount of power your engine develops depends to a very large extent on the amount of "compression" in each cylinder. An explanation of the amount of "compression" will make the meaning of "compression" clear. An automobile engine operates on what is called the four-stroke principle. Starting, we will say, with the piston at the top of the cylinder, as soon as the engine starts, the piston commences to move down. As it does so, the Intake Valve opens, and through this Valve a charge of gasoline reaches the bottom of the cylinder, the Intake Valve closes and the piston commences to move up the cylinder, and compresses the charge drawn in on the Intake Stroke. This small space at the top of the cylinder. This is called the "compression stroke." The more highly the mixture is compressed, the more power the engine develops. If the Valves, Piston Rings, Cylinder Head gaskets or Spark Plug gaskets leak, part of the mixture escapes, then the pressure is reduced, causing a loss of power, and uneven running of the engine.

TESTING COMPRESSION AND BEARINGS

To test the compression, first let the engine warm up by running for a short time, then remove all spark plugs but the one in No. 1 cylinder. Now turn off the Ignition switch, but open the throttle wide open, then insert the starting crank. "Feel" the resistance there is in the cylinder, when you press down on the crank. Do not force the handle right down at first, but "see" it up and down, and "feel" the resistance, which should be quite strong and "springy." Test each cylinder in turn in this way. The resistance should be the same in each cylinder. Poor compression may be caused by (1) Leaking Piston Rings, (2) Pitted or Sticking Valves, (3) Insufficient clearance between the Valve Stem and Tappet, (4) Cylinder Head or Spark Plug Gaskets leaking.

Worn, stuck, or broken piston rings or scored cylinder walls allow a loss of compression between the piston and the cylinder wall. This trouble can be detected by having some one turn the engine over slowly, with the starting crank while you place your ear near the oil filter head and listen. If there is a leak at the piston you will hear a hissing sound in the crank case. This trouble can only be cured by an expert mechanic. If there appears to be no hissing sound in the crank case when the engine is turned over, then you are fairly safe in concluding that the Piston rings are all right, but that the Valves require grinding.

When you have the carbon cleaned out, remove the valve springs. The illustration shows a very simple and quick way to do this. Hold down the head of the valve while you pry up the spring to remove the cotter or washer under the valve retaining washer. Now pull out the valve, then the valve spring can be pulled out. Replace the valve for the time being in the cylinder until you are ready to grind it in. Make sure that the valve is seated. First clean the valve and the valve seat with some gasoline, and make sure the face of the valve, then pass a light spring under the valve head, so that when pressure is released, the valve will be raised. Grind the valve grinding tools. Bear firmly but not heavily, and be careful not to make more than one-third to one-half turn before reversing direction, and occasionally let the valve rise up so as to give the grinding compound a chance to spread evenly, and also to prevent grooves being ground in the valve face and seat. When the valve presents a smooth silvery appearance all round, and all pits and black spots are removed, the valve is finished. Be VERY CAREFUL you do not let any of the grinding compound get down the valve guides or into the cylinder. If the valve is in such bad condition that grinding will not remove the pits, a new seat will have to be cut, an operation that can only be performed by an expert mechanic.

Clean the valve thoroughly with gasoline, then replace the valve spring. When all valves are ground in, clean the cylinder head with some gasoline, but use a NEW cylinder head gasket, for it is more than likely the old one was damaged when you took it off, and will leak if you use it again. After replacing the cylinder head, the clearance of the valves must be checked. This is a most important adjustment and will be described in detail in next week's article.

More Grip on the Road!

Buick Four-wheel Brakes

Buick four-wheel brakes give all 1924 Buick cars twice the amount of grip on the road, thereby doubling their braking efficiency. It is the friction or grip of the tire on the road surface that brakes or slows down the car.

Buick four-wheel brakes not only provide a greater power to stop in case of emergency but, because of this four-wheel road grip, reduce skidding dangers to a minimum.

In turning, Buick four-wheel brake construction automatically releases whichever is the outside or guiding front wheel so it is instantly responsive to the steering mechanism.

Buick four-wheel brake construction distributes braking friction over four drums and four wheels. This reduces wear on brake linings and tires, thereby assuring their longer life and greater efficiency, with fewer adjustments.

Buick four-wheel brakes (on all models) together with countless other distinctive features of the 1924 cars further establish Buick as the Standard of Comparison.

DEPARTMENT

AUGUST closed the summer season for the Ford Motor Company with sales of 161,567 Cars and Trucks, 39,605 more than were delivered at retail during the same month last year, it is just announced.

The remarkable increases which have characterized Ford sales so far this year, bringing them to a total of 1,212,555 for the eight months up to September 1, promise to maintain the same proportions during the fall season.

At least, this is indicated by the number of orders on hand at the first of the present month. The new type Ford cars, now in the hands of practically all dealers in the country, are attracting widespread attention.

The tendency toward enclosed car buying is growing more noticeable and in this connection the four-door Ford Sedan is gaining in popularity as the family car. This Sedan has enjoyed a lively demand ever since its introduction and now, with improvements which have come as a result of the higher radiator, it is more attractive in appearance than ever before. The Ford Coupe, which is new in design and with many refinements, is enjoying unusual popularity.

Join the great family of Ford Owners and buy your Ford NOW!

Remember, you can buy them on the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan or on the Easy Installment Plan!

And The Car That Won Was Firestone Equipped!

When Tommy Milton flashed across the wire at Indianapolis on May 30th, winner of the 500-mile International Sweepstakes, the tires which carried him to victory were Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords. In all, eight out of ten drivers who shared the prize money, had Firestone-equipped cars and not one tire failure occurred.

It will pay you, just as it pays the men who give the most time and thought to choosing tires, to equip exclusively with Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords.

6. Cleanliness—Refuse may be instantly dumped through spring trap in bottom of heater.
8. Adaptability—One valve fits any size exhaust pipe.
9. Price—$17.50, complete.

A MAN WHO WAS ALWAYS ON THE JOB

REVIEW OF THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 23, 1923.

Read II Timothy, Chapter 1.

WM. SOUTHERN, JR.

History parades before the reader a line of men and women who made that history. Among those whose characters form the story are always found men of genius, men of courage, good men, bad men and men who rocked the boat. In these studies we have met all these characters and today the lesson is about the dependable man, the man who was always on the job. I would like to picture him as the average man. There was not even anything extraordinary in his name, which was Timothy and his friends probably called him Tim.

Men of genius who flash across the horizon always attract our admiration and praise. They may carry over some great emergency, but it is the dependable man, and, thank God there are millions of him, who carries forward the destinies of nations in progressive, slow and sure and irresistible, forward movement. It is an old saying that genius is ninety per cent perspiration. The dependable man is genius without spectacular attachments.

The Real Secret of a Successful Home

—attractiveness—convenience—durability

All three are essentials and you will find them incorporated in the modern home featured this week.

This ideal plan has just been created, and from it a model home is now under construction. Something new—different—yet embodying all modern labor and time saving conveniences, was the instruction given, and as our efforts were praised and adopted, we are offering you the opportunity of adopting them also.

The exterior calls for siding painted a soft light color, with trimmings to harmonize. However, the home would be equally as attractive in stucco. A sufficient amount of ventilation has been provided above the ceiling to assure a cool home. The graceful curve of the shingle roof is a distinct feature, as is also the arched vestibule and terrace porch. You will note the porte-cochere or pergola drive is constructed opposite the dining room separated by a terrace porch. The view from the dining room through double French doors and spacious windows onto this porch with its flower boxes and vine covered porte-cochere is wonderfully attractive.

Now we are going to ask that you study carefully the general interior arrangement which provides compactness, ideal division of rooms, embodying built-in features and conveniences which cannot help but appeal and create desires for adoption. Fireplace and bookcases occupy one entire side of the living room. Note location of buffet radiating its attractiveness through the double glass doors which separate dining room from living room, readily seen from front entrance door. The kitchen a maze of conveniences—breakfast nook with its landscape window, ironing board which folds up into the wall, serving table, broom closet, cooler closet, sink drain board, cupboards providing convenient places for everything. On the back porch, which is screened in, are found water heater, laundry trays and ice box. Separating the bed rooms are two closets with windows to each. There is also a small hall connecting the two bedrooms, leading to the bath room, in which is a stationary tub, medicine cabinet above wash basin and linen cabinets on the two sides with abundance of light over each.

Through special arrangements, complete detailed plans and specifications for this model bungalow home can be secured by writing the "Home Building Editor" of this paper.

This is but another evidence of service made possible through the co-operation and support of the following representative business firms who are responsible for this weekly forward movement Home Building Campaign.
